'Kidnaped' Woman Returns

Take it from Here

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK — Someone should erect a monument to weekends. It probably could take the form of two neighbors leaning over a fence, a usually neat and trim business husband sloppily dressed and relaxed behind a Sunday newspaper, or an alarm clock, coated in bronze, with the alarm button firmly and securely turned off.

Weekends at our house are pure relaxation. They start at 1 p.m. Saturday and end at 6 a.m. Monday. We stretch the getting-up hour to 7:30 a.m. Sunday or as long as we can keep Mike from tearing-down his crib bar from bar. Mike is uncommonly punctual about meals, sleeping hours and play time.

* * *

The past weekend was particularly interesting. Our neighborhood was alive with weekend activity—alive, we mean, in comparison to the super-quiet of other weekends. For one thing our neighbors, the family of Dr. LaMar Wells, were moving into their new home across the street.

The Wellses lived several doors up the street to the west. They began their new home north of us about Easter. Since that time the progress of their new home has been on the tip of every tongue in the neighborhood. We watched the beautiful new structure rise speedily after the big bulldozers had carved out a building site from sloping, hilly land. "One doesn't have to have a level lot anymore," one of the neighbors was moved to comment as the earth-moving machines slithered through the clay soil.

* * *

The last few weeks of the building move slowly, or so it seemed, as the finishing touches were put on the structure. My wife rejoiced as the plans revealed a fireplace. No home is complete without a fireplace my wife thinks, and this was disclosed to be a large, handsome one that dominates the entire end of the living room.

During the weeks and months of building, hundreds of motorists cruised by, all heads pointed to the new home that was emerging from amidst the leafy trees. A building contractor would have a prime list of prospects had he been able to get their names. It indicated the tremendous interest in home-building that is sweeping the nation.

* * *

One doesn't like to be nosey, even though a neighbor, so we wangled our first trip through the Wells home last week by deceit. We caught "Doc" putting a board or two on the breezeway and sidled up with the remark, "You've had a lot of visitors lately, haven't you Doc?"

He looked up happily and said, "Golly, yes! I let 'em all go through. I should charge admission," he added laughingly. Then he said, "Go on through. We're just getting ready to move in."

* * *

We toured the splendid new home. "Doc" joined us later, putting emphasis on some of the finer features. Deep down in our heart we felt happy for "Doc," his family and all other families who are building and moving into new homes.

At the completion of the tour, "Doc" extended an invitation to Dorothy to come and inspect their new domicile. Dorothy accepted speedily, and came home breathless with excitement.

* * *

Now that the Wellses have moved in, our neighborhood will revert to its usual quiet.

If you don't think the building of a new home is exciting, just ask the Wellses—and the neighbors!

Lions Will Hear Expert on Taxes

The Dixon Lions Club will meet Tuesday, 12:10 p.m., at the Nachusa House for its luncheon meeting. The speaker will be J. B. Malone, Chicago attorney and tax expert. The title of Malone's talk will be, "Return to Simplicity."

Mrs. Walgreen—Hostess

NEARLY 1,000 GUESTS visited "Hazelwood," the Rock River estate of Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Sunday. Visitors enjoyed the daylilies, now at the height of their beauty. Mrs. Walgreen is pictured above as she talks with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fischer, Crystal Lake. The Walgreen collection of hemerocallis (daylily) is probably the largest of any private garden in the country. Proceeds from the open house benefit the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Garden, Springfield, a project of the Garden club of Illinois. (See story on Society Page).

County Taverns Given Warning

Supervisors, Sheriff Check Midnight Curfew

A. C. Higby, Dixon township supervisor and chairman of the county board's liquor committee, today issued a stern warning to all Lee county tavern and roadhouse owners and proprietors concerning tavern closing hours.

He said, "In the future, any liquor law violation will automatically mean the revocation of the liquor license." He added, "This warning applies to all taverns."

Higby's statement came as an aftermath of a spot check made by the committee and Sheriff John Stouffer about midnight Saturday.

The Dixon supervisor said that three of the taverns checked were violating the law by serving whisky and beer after midnight. He added that no Dixon taverns were in violation.

Higby singled out The Brown Shingle tavern, located on Palmyra Road, as perhaps the scene of the most flagrant liquor law violation.

He explained that the bartenders continued to sell liquor after midnight Saturday even after they were told to stop. Higby added that he intends to see to it that it never happens again.

Higby said that action against this tavern has been postponed until he can call a meeting of the liquor committee. The tavern's liquor license is issued to a Mrs. O'Hare, Higby added.

6 Killed in Crash Near Janesville

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)— Six persons were killed and seven others were injured Sunday night in a two car collision five miles west of Janesville.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. James B. Tait and Mrs. Edward Litts, all of Janesville; Mrs. Virgil Lounsbury, 32, of Tiffany, Wis., and her two daughters, Cordia, 6, and Joanne, 5 months.

The injured, taken to a Janesville hospital, are: Edward Litts, husband of one victim; Virgil Lounsbury, husband of Mrs. Lounsbury, and five other Lounsbury children.

Conditions of the survivors were not available.

Authorities said the Tait and Litts couples were in one car and the Lounsburys in the other.

Roman Catholics, Police Clash Again in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(AP)—Argentina's uneasy church-state truce was jarred Sunday as police and firemen routed Catholic rioters staging their second anti-Peron demonstration in 24 hours.

The riot landed 13 policemen and firemen in hospitals and brought condemnation of the demonstrators from Santiago Cardinal Copello, ailing archbishop of Buenos Aires who has urged a peaceful course in the dispute.

Sixty persons were arrested but many were released after questioning.

In the first violence since the bloody June 16 revolt against President Juan Peron, more than 500 demonstrators milled through the Plaza de Mayo near the Metropolitan Cathedral. Police trying to disperse the crowd were stoned.

Defying church appeals for peace and Peron's own call for "pacification," the demonstrators jeered police and shouted "he must go" in an apparent reference to the President.

Firemen sprayed the rioters with chemical foam and brown-tinted water as police wagons rushed to the square.

Most of the crowd fled from the Plaza, but some gathered a few blocks away and marched toward the Naval Club Building, singing the national anthem. Four firetrucks were rushed up to scatter the marchers again with water sprays.

Sunday's riot broke out shortly after priests finished reading from their pulpits a letter from Cardinal Copello urging Catholics to refrain from provocative acts.

Church leaders said the march was "completely unauthorized."

2-Year-Old Baby Kidnaped From Crib in Sioux City, Ia.

Parents in Other Room Watching TV

Witnesses See Man With 'Bundle;' No Motive, Police Say

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)— A 2-year-old girl apparently was kidnaped from her crib Sunday night while her parents watched television in another room, police said today.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis reported their daughter, Donna Sue, missing to police about 30 minutes after they had put her to bed at 9:30 p.m. The father said a screen had been removed from a window.

Davis, a clerk for the Chicago & North Western Railroad, and his family live on the first floor of a two-story duplex in a modest Sioux City neighborhood.

No Motive

Police Capt. John Rispolje said he has learned no motive for a kidnaping. He said there apparently has been no family trouble and the parents knew of no one who would want to take the child.

The Davises have two other children, Mary Clair, 11, and Tommy, 7, who were asleep in another bedroom.

Several neighbors reported seeing a man come up to the duplex and go to the back where the bedroom is located.

Although the end of the crib was near the window, police believe the person must have entered the bedroom. The window sill is about four feet from the ground.

Hear Nothing

Mr. and Mrs. Davis said they heard no noise in the bedroom.

Capt. Rispolje said Laif Sjeldos, who lives in the neighborhood, told of chasing a man with a bundle in his arms down an alley about a block from the Davis home.

Sjeldos said he cornered the man in some bushes but that he got away when Sjeldos went into his house to telephone police.

The blonde haired, blue eyed child was dressed in pink pajamas when put to bed.

George Berger, a next door neighbor, said he was in his backyard and saw a man come up to the Davis house but that his view was blocked by a parked car.

Dixon Native 106 Years Old

LA VERNE, Calif. (AP)—A native of Dixon, Ill., Mrs. Alice S. Staley, celebrated her 106th birthday Sunday and received a birthday card from President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Staley, who says she has been a Republican all her life, attends church every Sunday and once a week goes marketing. Her advice for sound health in later years:

"Don't work too hard. Work a little, but don't overdo it."

(Editor's Note: A check of several Dixon residents today failed to reveal any additional information about Mrs. Staley. Anyone who knows her, or knows of her, is asked to call The Evening Telegraph newsroom.)

Defense Aide Anderson Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert B. Anderson of Texas resigned today as deputy secretary of defense, effective about Aug. 15.

The White House, announcing the resignation, said President Eisenhower was accepting it "with the greatest reluctance."

It said no successor had yet been chosen. However, Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, indicated the president would make a nomination to the post before Congress adjourns, possibly about Aug. 1.

There have been reports that Anderson would be succeeded by Reuben B. Robertson Jr., Hamilton, Ohio, paper company executive.

A Tense Moment at Plum Hollow

PART OF THE THRONG that waited tensely is shown here as Jim Lamb, left, Mt. Morris, prepares to stroke his putt on the 54th hole of the Lincoln Highway tournament held at Plum Hollow, Sunday. An estimated crowd of nearly 500 watched as Lamb came on to tie Ken Detweiler of Dixon Country club on this final hole and then go on to win his second straight individual championship and the fourth of his career. DeKalb won the team event. (Other pictures and story on page 8)

Stratton Vetoes 56-Hour Week for City Firemen

Says It's Local Matter; Claims He'll Kill Bonus

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton today vetoed the 56-hour week bill for downstate firemen in cities over 12,000 population and announced he will kill the 150-million-dollar Korean war veterans bonus proposal.

In disposing of 115 measures approved by the Legislature, Stratton signed bills to add 100 men to the state police force, allow downstate cities to operate local transportation systems and provide for construction of National Guard armories in Freeport, Effingham, West Frankfort and Litchfield.

The governor, explaining to newsmen his veto of the firemen's bill said conditions varied in municipalities that would have been affected.

"In some, the 56-hour rule would be relatively easy to apply," he said, "and in others it might be burdensome.

Local Decision

"This is a question which should be left primarily for decision by the local municipal authorities who are acquainted with the peculiar conditions prevailing in their own community."

Stratton said a "very careful study" of the Korean bonus question was needed before pushing ahead with any specific payment plan. A legislative commission already has his approval to go into the matter.

The bonus bill would have submitted to voters at the 1956 general election the question of issuing 150 million dollars in state bonds to pay awards ranging from $50 to $555, depending on duration and place of service.

May Okay Broyles

The governor indicated he plans to sign the Broyles bill. He said it hasn't yet reached his desk for action but that there is "nothing particularly objectionable to it." The bill would require loyalty oaths from state employes, school teachers and some other public employes.

Stratton announced he will veto a bill to set up a 4½ million-dollar state fund for helping school districts finance construction of new classrooms.

Other Vetoes

Other vetoes announced by the governor struck down bills to:

Require persons regularly employed as an ambulance attendant to have a first aid certificate.

Fix at $2 the state truck or bus

Traffic Light Revealed by GE

LYNN, Mass. (AP)— General Electric Co. announced today development of a new traffic light that automatically counts cars and "rations" the green light to keep traffic moving at maximum efficiency.

Cars approaching a main highway on a secondary road are counted by an electronic controller. Then the signal allows just enough "green time" to clear the autos.

General Electric officials said the electronic device is part of a new line of devices designed to meet street intersection traffic problems and keep traffic moving on main highways.

Catholics Protest in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)— An estimated 200,000 Roman Catholics poured into Brussels Sunday to protest school policies of Premier Achille van Acker's Liberal-Socialist coalition. The only casualties were caused by the heat.

Arriving by train, car and bus, many demonstrators carried the traditional pirates' black flag of revolt and chanted slogans against the government's bill to tighten regulation of church and other private schools.

The disputed school bill already has been approved by the House of Representatives and is now before the Senate. It provides for control of the opening of new private schools, cuts subsidies to free Catholic education, tightens conditions for subsidizing private education and sets up other measures which Catholic leaders label a "deadly menace" to Catholic education in Belgium.

Government sources maintain that the measure will reestablish a balance between state and Catholic schools which they contend was broken in favor of the church schools by the previous Catholic government.

Hymn-Singing Convicts Together Again—in Jail

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo.—(AP) Three members of a hymn-singing convict quartet that escaped from an Alabama prison three days ago were back in custody today.

Two—Bobby Tidwell, 22, and Bobby Cottrell, 22, of Roanoke, Va.—were picked up by a state highway trooper early today near the southeast Missouri town.

Trooper R. C. Caldwell found their station wagon abandoned with a broken axle and arrested them a short distance away. They were not armed and had only $3 between them.

Nab Baritone

Sunday night FBI agents captured Walter Tidwell, 30, the quartet's baritone at Memphis, Tenn. He was described by officials of Kilby Prison at Montgomery, Ala., as the "tough guy" of the four and probably the leader in the escape.

The FBI men grabbed Tidwell as he stepped from a telephone booth after phoning his wife in Birmingham, Ala. She reported he told her he was taking "the next bus to Birmingham to see you, and then I want you to go to Kilby with me to turn myself in."

He is serving a life sentence for murder.

The fourth member is Orville Gray, 27, who had refused a parole a year ago to stay with the quartet.

Trooper Caldwell quoted Bobby Tidwell and Cottrell as saying Gray left them at Fredericktown and started hitchhiking. They said he planned to go to Michigan.

Gray visited his father and an uncle at Graifithville, Ark., Sunday.

Overpower Guard

The convicts overpowered a guard Friday night while en route to the prison at Montgomery, Ala., after a singing appearance at Linden, Ala.

A fifth singer and the pianist for the group, who refused to join the escape, were bound and gagged along with Guard J. D. Grantham and dumped in a Negro church near Columbus, Miss., Saturday.

Reports for Duties at State School

State-Wide Hunt Ends; Sheriff Allen Bitter

OREGON—(Special)—Mrs. Georgia Miller, 41, Leaf River, object of a state-wide search during the week-end after she was reported kidnaped, reported for work at Dixon State school this morning, apparently unaware of any "publicity" about her disappearance.

State School officials notified Ogle County authorities when Mrs. Miller arrived, and she was taken into custody a short time later.

Ogle Sheriff Charles B. Allen said he asked the woman if she had been kidnaped, and he quoted her as replying, "I don't know whether I was kidnaped or not."

Has Appointment

The sheriff said Mrs. Miller told him she had an appointment to meet Mitchell Stockwell, Rockford, at noon today in Rockford. Stockwell is the man Mrs. Miller identified in a phone call to a daughter-in-law Friday night as her abductor.

Deputy sheriffs took Mrs. Miller to Rockford in an attempt to trap Stockwell. At 1 p. m. today there was no report that Stockwell had been found.

Allen said he warned Mrs. Miller to make up her mind about the kidnaping charge, because someone would face charges in the case. He said the sheriffs' staffs of Ogle and Winnebago Counties, the State Police and the FBI had been called into the case.

Allen also said he did not question Mrs. Miller extensively this morning because the trap for Stockwell was being arranged.

Missing Friday

Mrs. Miller was reported missing Friday night after she called her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Delbert Miller, Byron, and told her she was being held by force by Stockwell, and that he had threatened her. The daughter-in-law said Mrs. Miller sounded frightened.

Mrs. Miller's husband, Ivan, 51, who operates a coffee shop in Leaf River, described Stockwell as a family acquaintance, but said they had had no contact with him for some time.

Mrs. Miller has an excellent work record at the State School, according to officials who said she has been employed there since March 14 this year.

'Suppress Lawlessness,' CIO Council Tells Officials

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)— St. Clair and Madison County officials have been warned by the CIO Industrial Union Council here that recall petitions will be circulated to replace them if they fail to suppress "lawlessness."

"Events of the last few months," the Council declared Saturday in a resolution, "have indicated lawless elements have developed a complete disregard for law enforcement."

Redouble Efforts

The Council, which represents 7,500 to 8,000 workers, called on the officials to "redouble their efforts to rout out such elements without fear or favor."

J. Fred Koenig, convicted black market operator and racing news distributor, was murdered and his body found stuffed in the trunk of his car June 22. The cars of two of Koenig's pals, Birney T. (Chick) Havey and Kenneth Mueller, earlier had been riddled with bullets.

Meanwhile, Chief of Detectives Al Bott said a witness, who reported he saw a man believed to be Koenig slumped in the arms of two men the night Koenig was killed, would view mug shots of hoodlums and gunmen from the area today.

To See Pictures

Bott said if no identification is made from these pictures, he will ask Detroit police to send pictures of known gunmen and hoodlums to be viewed by the witness.

Chief George Dowling said special precautions are being taken to protect the witness, who has expressed fear for his safety. "We're trying to save this man's life," Dowling said.

The investigation apparently has turned along the lines that hired gunmen might have killed Koenig. The witness has said he saw the men holding up the third man and placing him in a car about three miles north of here on June 21.

HARRISON, N. J. (AP)— Arrested by her police lieutenant husband on his disorderly person complaint, Mrs. Edna O'Connor hanged herself in a jail cell Sunday.

Authorities said the 41-year-old woman, wife of Lt. Peter A. O'Connor and mother of two children, was found hanging from a bed sheet knotted on a window crank in the cell.

Police said Mrs. O'Connor was lodged in the detention room early Sunday morning after her husband filed a disorderly complaint against her because of a noisy quarrel he said "caused lights to pop on all over the neighborhood."

'Confidential' Editor Wasn't Lost at All

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—New York editor Howard Rushmore, complaining that publicity given a trip he wanted to be secret has made his sources "clam up" flew back to Chicago today.

It's like "working in a gold fish bowl," he said.

Rushmore, a 6-5 200-pounder who is editor of Confidential, a bimonthly national magazine, popped up in Butte, Mont., under an assumed name Saturday. He said he was searching for a man he described as a top Communist leader.

But by then publicity about his being missing from Chicago had caught up with him, and he flew to Salt Lake City looking for another man.

He said the reports about his being missing were "all a big mistake." They arose when he failed to keep an appointment Friday with a Chicago detective.

He denied his disappearance was a publicity stunt.

He refused to identify the men he was seeking.

The Ogle Homemaker

Two Polo Girls to Attend Leadership Conference

By HARRIETT E. WACHLIN
Ogle County Home Adviser

OREGON — (Special) — Patsy Schnulle, Polo, and Nancy Moeller, also of Polo, have been selected to attend the 1955 State 4-H Junior Leadership Conference, July 25-30, at 4-H Memorial Camp, Monticello, Ill.

These two home economics 4-H Club girls were chosen by the county 4-H Committee to represent Ogle County because they have developed outstanding 4-H records and have acquired special qualities of leadership.

Harriett Wachlin

Through talks, discussions, associations, and participation in activities at this leadership conference, it is expected that Nancy and Patsy will add to their old attitudes, skills and techniques as well as develop new ones with which to better serve their fellow man.

The goals which each camper attending leadership conference are to strive for are as follows: one good craft article to take home; swimming skill improved; new games learned; new ideas to help his or her own local and county 4-H program, and new friends made.

The 4-Hers attending this weeklong camp do not spend all their time at playing. Every delegate will serve on one of ten functional committees which will be responsible for the operation of the camp.

The committees to which members will be assigned are: ceremonials, citizenship (cabin hosts and hostesses), crafts, dining hall, discussions, evening program, Evensong, music, sports and tours.

Every member will do some teaching or other service for the conference as well as participate in the parts of the program he or she is interested in.

Homemakers Camp

Ogle County had five full-time campers at White Eagle 4-H Camp, July 6, 7, and 8.

They were Mrs. Helen Flanders and Mrs. Ruth Miller, Rochelle; Mrs. Emery Watson, Rockford; Mrs. Celia Kaney, Shannon, and Mrs. Earl Link, Forreston.

Campers who attended for one day were Mrs. John Gatz and Mrs. Milliard Douth, Polo; Mrs. Ralph Young, Mrs. Claude Bolthouse and Mrs. Don Wachlin, Oregon; Mrs. Walter Kaney, Baileyville, and Mrs. Frederick Zumdahl, Forreston.

A great deal of interest was shown in making purses using straw-tex braid. Our 1956 county program of work will include making these straw-tex purses and hats.

Other craft work which the homemakers were enthusiastic about included lampmaking, copper enameling jewelry, basket weaving and making corsages using candy.

Share the Fun Winners

Lorna and David Johnson, of the Lighthouse Hustlers 4-H Club, will be one of the nine acts to represent our district at the State Share-the-Fun program at the State Fair Grounds, Aug. 17.

Lorna and David, who played the accordian and cornet respectively, were selected after participating in the District Share-the-Fun program at Dixon July 5.

Forty-five acts and 8 masters of ceremony from nine counties performed for an over-flow crowd at the Loveland Community Building.

Two other acts from Ogle County received "A" or "Superior" ratings. They were the girls trio, representing the Monroe Jolly Jumpers, who sang "Side By Side." The trio is composed of Janet Cane, Judy Lantz, and Gwen Miller.

Sandra Gittleson, of the Lyn-De 4-H Club, also received a "Superior" rating for her baton twirling.

The Ogle Jolly 4-H Club Band and the Lindenwood Jolly Workers tap dance quartet were both given "excellent" ratings.

Clothes Dryers

I thought you might be interested in the following information received from the U.S.D.A. Agricultural Research Service concerning automatic clothes dryers. This research was supervised by Roxanne O'Leary.

The electrically heated dryer was found to cost 6.7 cents per load (44 minute drying period) based on electricity rates of 2.5 cents per kilowatt hour. Gas heated dryers cost only 0.9 cents per load, but it must be kept in mind that the gas heated dryer initially costs from $25 to $45 more than the electrically heated model of the same brand.

It cut the actual working time to one-sixth of that of line drying, they found in their research.

Do clothes stay whiter when dried in the sunshine? What about fading of colors in a dryer? Results of tests varied according to the type of fabric, but on the whole, differences in whiteness between dryer and line drying were so slight they could hardly be distinguished by eye even after 50 washings. A thorough washing and rinsing is more important in maintaining whiteness than is the method of drying. Colors, except for some blue dyes which were badly affected by the gas heated dryer, were significantly more stable when clothes were dried in a dryer. This was particularly true of some red dyes, even when compared with garments that were dried outside in semi-shade.

What about shrinkage? Shrinkage in machine drying proved to be greater than in line drying for almost all items tested. For some items, such as diapers, this might be an advantage since shrinkage increases the absorbency. Cotton knits, if removed from the dryer while still slightly damp and blocked into shape, showed the same shrinkage as when dried outdoors. To offset the increased shrinkage from the use of mechanical dryers, some manufacturers of cotton knit goods have developed a shrink-resistant process known as "Perma-sized."

Are dryers hard on clothes? Because of the lint collected in the dryer, the impression is given that dryers wear out clothes faster. Actually, the same lint is removed from clothes when hung outdoors but it is blown away and we therefore aren't aware of it. Strength tests showed, in general, that smooth finished fabrics such as sheets, broadcloth shirts, rayon and nylon garments lost less tensile strength when dried in a dryer than when dried outside, napped or rough surfaced fabrics such as terry cloth toweling or diapers lost slightly more tensile strength when dried in the dryer.

It was also found that, in general, garments dried in a dryer were softer and many were less wrinkled than those dried out-of-doors. This would be a particular advantage in the case of items such as toweling, diapers, or knit goods.

Jobs Open in U. S. State Department

The U.S. Department of State's personnel representatives will be in Chicago, until July 29, at the Illinois State Employment Service office, 73 West Washington Street, to interview persons for assignment in Washington, D. C., or in one of this country's 245 embassies, legations and consulates throughout the world.

William B. Kelly, Betty Ann Utz and Georgia Mae McKeever will interview Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Candidates may come directly to the team's office for interview. Appointments at times other than these hours may be arranged by calling Financial 6-3960.

Applicants for overseas positions must be between 21 and 35 years of age, single, American citizens, in excellent health and available for assignment anywhere in the world. Stenographers must be able to type 50 words per minute and take dictation at 80 words per minute. Typists must have a typing speed of 50 words per minute and general clerks must know the touch typing system and be able to type 35 words per minute and code clerks 45 words per minute.

Salaries for overseas positions start at $3,390 per year, plus housing, plus cost of living allowances, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent of base pay in some areas. A yearly increase is given each employe who performs satisfactorily. Liberal sick and annual leave privileges are granted. Each employe receives at government expense a six-week vacation leave with full pay after each tour of duty.

Applicants for positions in the "home office," Washington, D. C., must be 18 years of age. Stenographers must type 40 words per minute and take dictation at 80 words per minute and typists must be able to type 45 words per minute.

Salaries for stenographic positions in the department's headquarters start at $3,415 per year and clerk-typist at $3,175 per year, with yearly increases for satisfactory service. Liberal annual and sick leave privileges are granted.

The State Department personnel officers, in visiting all parts of the country, seek to find a cross-section of representative Americans to portray our way of life abroad. It is the collective viewpoint and the "know how" of all Americans that the department wishes to present in the headquarters in Washington or in our posts overseas.

Mystic Shrine Convention Opens Today

CHICAGO (AP)— The Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, 90,000 red fezzes strong, is off and running today on its annual five-day convention.

As Shriners poured into the city Sunday from every state, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii and the Canal Zone, spontaneous revelry erupted throughout downtown Chicago.

For Shriners parades are the thing. And mamouth seven-hour parades—25,000 marchers, 23 mounted patrols riding 650 horses, 23 jackasses and seven camels—will highlight the convention Tuesday morning and Thursday evening.

Two former Presidents will participate in the convention.

Harry S. Truman, a member of Kansas City's Ararat Temple will arrive Tuesday afternoon, the personal guest of Frank S. Land, imperial potentate and a fellow Kansas Citian.

Herbert Hoover will be among those to receive a "salute from Shrinedom" Wednesday night at the Shrinerama show in Soldier Field.

Government units, federal, state and local, operate 71 per cent of all the hospital beds in the nation.

Dixon-Yates Study Shifts To Memphis

WASHINGTON (AP)— Administration officials studying possible cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract apparently sought iron-clad assurance today that the city of Memphis will build its own power plant.

They arranged a conference with Memphis Mayor Frank Tobey and Maj. Thomas H. Allen, president of the city's light, gas and water division.

Tobey and Allen were called here to meet with Atty. Gen. Brownell, Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes and Chairman Vogel of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The three were designated by President Eisenhower to restudy the whole matter of the controversial private power contract after Memphis announced plans to build its own plant rather than buy Dixon-Yates power through the TVA.

In other developments:

1. Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said that unless the Dixon-Yates contract is canceled quickly, members of the Atomic Energy Commission will be called on for an explanation.

2. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said a Senate antimonopoly subcommittee he heads may call former Budget Director Joseph Dodge as a witness in the inquiry it started last week and resumes today.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, told newsmen he had set a meeting of the group with the AEC for Wednesday.

He said that if, at that time, "the Dixon-Yates contract is still alive, I'm sure members of the committee will want to know why, in the light of the decision of the city of Memphis, it has not been canceled." The AEC signed the contract at Eisenhower's direction.

The 107-million-dollar Dixon-Yates plant under construction at West Memphis, Ark., across the Mississippi River from Memphis, was intended primarily to supply power for the Memphis area, replacing TVA power diverted to atomic installations.

Has Suggestion

SEOUL (AP)— South Korea's Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun called upon President Eisenhower to tell Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin at Geneva:

"You Communists, let go your victims."

This "logically, should be the first American utterance" at the Big Four chiefs of state meeting next week, Pyun told a news conference.

He Charges Folks Just for Sitting in Uranium Dirt

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—Jesse F. Reese is taking greenbacks out of some very poor uranium dirt these days. At first he was reluctant, but now he's gotten rid of his dairy herd to make room for the old folks.

He charges people $2 for the privilege of sitting in his uranium dirt for two hours. About 150 a day pay for room to sit. It once took Reese a considerable amount of milking to get that sort of money from his cows.

Reese discovered uranium on his farm two years ago, but not in commercial quantities. He forgot the matter.

Last September a stranger asked Reese if he could sit in his ditch. Seems he'd been taking radiation treatments for pains for rheumatism and thought he could get some help from the ditch while visiting Comanche relatives.

Reese told him to go ahead. The word spread. Soon sitters were trampling his fields and leaving gates open.

Reese thought he'd stop that bother. He declared anyone could sit in his dirt for $2 for 2 hours. He built a shed big enough for six persons to sit on benches. On the floors and behind sheetrock walls he piled dirt.

That didn't stop them. By June of this year people were standing in line. He expanded the shed to 10 times its original size. He's sold his dairy herd and will convert its barn to sitting. So he and his wife can get some rest, he's planning a 9 p.m. curfew.

Reese makes no claims and never has. He has each sitter sign a printed pledge saying he visited the farm voluntarily.

Negro Moves To Key Post

WASHINGTON (AP)— Everett Frederick Morrow, a Negro moved into a key managerial post in President Eisenhower's executive offices today. He is the first of his race to hold a job of that caliber there.

The White House announced Saturday Morrow's appointment as administrative officer for the special projects group, which includes units planning foreign policy, foreign economic policy, public works and disarmament. The post pays between $12,000 and $13,000 a year.

Morrow, a native of Hackensack, N. J., has been an adviser on business affairs to Secretary of Commerce Weeks since September, 1953.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House Sunday night after spending the weekend at his Gettyburg, Pa., farm home.

Three States Hit By Forest Fires

By The Associated Press

More than 2,000 men were thrown into the lines today to battle forest fires which had blackened at least 23,000 acres in three states by late Sunday night.

All still were out of control early today, with at least one person killed.

The largest, in Arizona's Prescott National Forest about 15 miles south of Prescott, had swept over an estimated 19,000 acres of wild, uninhabited land, Forest Service officials said.

Two separate conflagrations in southern Wyoming's Medicine Bow region had destroyed more than 3,500 acres, and about 100 fire fighters were converging on a small, smoky blaze in Arapahoe National Forest in northwestern Colorado.

Prescott is about 100 miles northwest of Phoenix. Wyoming's Medicine Bow region lies approximately 130 miles northwest of Denver.

Charles Cline, 57, Waggoner, Ariz., was burned to death in the Prescott fire when he was trapped in a canyon while prospecting, Prescott authorities said.

W. B. Gallaher, a flying ranger, said the Arizona fire was "a long way from being under control."

Both Wyoming blazes died down during the night, Forest Supervisor E. J. Fortenberry reported, but he said he expected the flames to run away again today before "between 1,000 and 1,200" men could encircle them.

One of the Wyoming fires was ranging about 40 miles northwest of Laramie in the Medicine Bow Mountains. It was discovered last Wednesday, and spread over about 1,800 acres.

Destroys 1,800 Acres

The other, Fortenberry said, also The othre, Fortenberry said, also has destroyed about 1,800 acres since it began Saturday in Madcine Bow National Forest 25 miles southwest of Saratoga, Wyo.

Firefighting teams include National Guardsmen, Forrest Service personnel, special Indian firefighters from Arizona and New Mexico and voluteers.

TORONTO (AP) — Canadian firefighters battled forest fires today, covering thousands or rain-starved acres in Ontario and Quebec.

In Ontario, major outbreaks were being fought in the Muskoka area and in the Blind River region, 130 miles northeast of Sault Ste. Marie.

Three fires were burning in Quebec's Baiecomeau region but no settlement was endangered.

House Tackles Foreign Aid Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $2,638,741,750 foreign aid money bill headed into a crossfire from budget-cutters and budget-boosters today in the House.

Already trimmed $627,900,000 below President Eisenhower's requests by the Appropriations Committee, the bill would finance for the current fiscal year the program of military and economic aid to non-Communist nations.

It would supplement an estimated $8,717,100,000 in unexpended balances from previous appropriations.

Some members don't think the Appropriations Committee hacked the bill deeply enough, while others contend it has been cut too deeply.

The budget-cutters went into the fray without the services of their usual leader, Rep. John Taber of New York.

Taber, senior Republican on the Appropriations Committee, lined up on the other side and told newsmen he didn't believe additional big cuts would be justified.

His attitude gave added strength to the bill's backers, led by Rep. Passman (D-La), who predicted there would be no major changes when the bill leaves the House for the Senate, perhaps late today.

Chicago's Old Union Club Being Razed

CHICAGO (AP) — Another of Chicago's early day mansions is coming down to make way for a modern structure. It is the one time Union Club, built as a club house in 1883 at an estimated cost of $100,000.

The more than 40 rooms of the vacant turreted stone structure are filled with debris and ancient furniture. Dust covers ornately carved wood paneling, imported marble and its leaded stained glass windows.

The Salvation Army bought the mansion at Dearborn Street and Delaware Place in 1913 as a residence for 175 business women, one of a chain of such homes across the nation. It is being torn down so the Salvation Army can build a 1¼ million dollar eight- story territorial headquarters office building.

Prosit, Comrade Khrushchev!

It is certainly news that Nikita Khrushchev, Russia's Communist boss, paid a surprise visit to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow—on the occasion of the July 4 celebration at that.

It was the first time since the Bolsheviks seized power in Russia that a Red bigwig set foot in what is known in Communist doubletalk as the portals of "American imperialism" and "predatory capitalism."

• • •

However, even on this occasion the uninhibited Red could not refrain from turning a garden party into a political forum.

Said Khrushchev while gulping a vodka: If Britain, France and the U. S. "talk to us honestly and sincerely something will come of" the Geneva Big Four Conference.

Very well, comrade, the point is well taken. And now what about a little honesty and sincerity on the part of the Kremlin boys?

• • •

For instance, a real Russian step toward relaxing international tension is impossible without Soviet abandonment of revolts and agitations throughout the world, the withdrawal of Red troops from North Korea, Eastern Europe and, of course, Germany and an end to shooting down our airplanes.

Also, even a slight shift of Russian production from war industries to consumer industries, goods the long-suffering people behind the Iron Curtain need so badly, would mean far more than any Soviet words.

The American Passport

More U. S. citizens are traveling abroad this summer than at any other time since the last war. All of them, of course, carry in their pocket or bag an American passport.

Surely no American who ever set foot in a foreign land for pleasure or business will fail to appreciate the value of the little green book which identifies him as a free citizen of a powerful and prosperous democracy.

If greenbacks are essential to his comfort and pleasures, the passport between the green covers is just as vital to his dignity as a man.

It is therefore encouraging to reread the historic decision of the Court of Appeals limiting the power of the State Department to deny passports to American citizens without a hearing. The court ruled: An American citizen's claim to a passport is a matter of natural, inherent right.

All those who believe in our great tradition of freedom must rejoice at this reaffirmation of a citizen's rights.

Toe and Fingernails Are Easy Prey for Disorders

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The nails of the fingers and toes usually serve us well giving much needed strength and support to the ends of these digits. Unfortunately the nails are susceptible to a great many disorders and can cause a lot of trouble.

They may act up following injury, disease elsewhere in the body, disorders of the skin in general, deficiencies in he diet, and local conditions which act on the nails alone. The nails can become loosened and fall off. They can become thickened, horny, easily split, soft, too thin, or deformed in any one of several ways.

There are a large number of possible causes for disturbances of the nails. Irritation from neglect, dirt, or poorly fitting shoes or gloves may be responsible. Certain diseases of the internal glands sometimes cause abnormalities of the nails.

THERE IS A DISEASE of the nails resulting from inflammation around the base of the nail or the nail bed. This is the result of infection with germs and its common name is whitlow.

A single nail may be involved—or all of them. This results in ridging and sometimes the nail separates and falls off.

The treatment, of course, is to attack the infection. In extremely severe cases, the nail may have to be removed before the infection can be cleared up.

Splitting of one or all of the nails is a common complaint. Its cause is usually obscure. Ringworm can affect the nails and may be difficult to cure.

PSORIASIS IS ANOTHER skin disease which may cause nails to become pitted and deformed. White spots or streaks can appear in the nails. The latter are most common in young people, and on fingers rather than on the toes.

All these diseases of the nails require accurate diagnosis, but unfortunately many of them are difficult to cure.

Irritation from nail polishes or lacquers is sometimes at fault. In psoriasis, ringworm or eczema of the nails, treatment has to be aimed at the particular disease responsible.

IN MOST OF THE OTHER conditions, the cause is likely to be associated with some general condition such as vitamin deficiency, a wasting disease, or something else far removed from the nails themselves. In such cases, of course, local treatment is not enough and the distant cause must be identified and appropriate remedies undertaken.

Disturbances of the nails of one sort or another are fairly common, complicated to diagnose, and do not always yield promptly to the measures which can be devised. The maintenance of good health, the avoidance of injury and good care of the nails are probably the most important precautionary measures.

In Hollywood

☆ By ERSKINE JOHNSON ☆

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: Passion or polish? — Hollywood's trying to make up its mind.

Grace Kelly proved that a lady can be box office and there's a crop of cool, genteel dolls being groomed for stardom these days who could qualify for the front row in Vassar's graduating class.

But with the exception of Grace herself, says Kirk Douglas, the dolls with college degrees, classic features and trained-for-tea pinkies will fizzle and fade. He's betting against the Kelly trend in his first independent movie with an uninhibited, sexy Italian model named Elsa Martinelli.

She makes her screen debut opposite him in "The Indian Fighter." Her elfin face may remind you of Audrey Hepburn, but her acting has the fire and spirit of an Anna Magnani.

Says Kirk: "In the long run I think film fans will pay to see passion rather than polish."

Instructions for Husbands: Here's What Irks Wives

When a wife wishes she could change her husband it is often for one of these reasons:

When they are out in public he pays too much attention to other women and not enough to his wife.

Whenever they go out together in the evening his wife has to drag him and listen all the while he gets dressed to how he dreads the evening.

Whenever she needs money she has to wheedle it out of him, even though the money may be for something as essential as groceries.

He doesn't care for her friends and doesn't make any effort to conceal the way he feels.

He pays too much attention to what his mother thinks and to the advice she offers him so freely.

He is a dull clod around the house, coming out from behind his newspaper or away from the TV set only to complain that the children are making too much noise.

HE WONDERS WHY HE'S NOT APPRECIATED

He scatters his clothes and possessions all over the house and expects his wife to go along picking up behind him.

He's short on sweet talk and on compliments.

He has a low opinion of women in general, frequently expressed by the phrase, "If that isn't just like a woman."

He rarely notices the things his wife does but is quick to spot and comment on the things she hasn't found time to do.

Any man who thinks his wife doesn't appreciate him might find the answer to why she doesn't in this list of complaints women often make against their husbands.

So They Say

I think he (Secretary of State Dulles) understands the world situation a great deal better than a great many of his critics.
—Sen. Irving Ives (R., N. Y.).

• • •

The use of undemocratic methods . . . is one of the most serious threats to our liberties . . . Never has our democracy and our liberties been so abused as they have by legislative investigating committees in the last few years.
—Educator Homer P. Rainey.

• • •

I admit that at times I have been extremely blunt in expressing my opinions. . . . I had no intention in the words that were used of hurting the feelings of anyone—but in the facts and opinions that I held I am unchanged.
—Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

• • •

The people of the United States want to live in peace with the Soviet people.
—Sen. Ralph Flanders (R., Vt.).

What's Right?

In introducing an older woman and a younger woman, mention the older woman's name first. "Mrs. Older I'd like you to know Mrs. Younger."

But when the persons you are introducing are only a few years apart in age which name is spoken first is not important.

Westbrook Pegler

A few days ago I published a letter written by Mrs. Manuel Miller from St. Elizabeth's hospital, a government madhouse in Washington, to which she had been transported as a prisoner from her home in Bethel, Vt. That letter was lucid, sensible and vigorous. Mrs. Miller now has been expelled from St. Elizabeth's because the Department of Justice did not dare face a habeas corpus action.

Westbrook Pegler

Today I present letters which Henry Wallace wrote to his GURU, Nicholas Roerich, and others. Roerich was a Russian religious quack. Wallace fell under his spell and wrote these letters before and during his terms as secretary of agriculture. In 1940, well knowing of this association and well knowing the text of these letters the Democratic party put Wallace over as vice president. The author of this trash served four years within one heartbeat of the highest secular office on earth in time of war.

A letter dated April 15, 1929, from "H. A. Wallace" to Miss Frances Grant, the GURU's press-agent and secretary, said:

"Altai-Himalaya arrived this morning and I have read enough to know that it is what I hoped. Both in words and in painting, Roerich is an adept in the use of symbols which have a power unknown to science. And yet Roerich's mysticism has a decidedly practical aspect and eventual significance to the scientific world."

Another letter to Miss Grant, with a notation "Rec'd Dec. 14, '37," began:

"En Route, Chicago to Washington:

"Former Senator Brookhart on train told me how he got Father Walsh to withdraw certain attacks a month or so ago. Also how he headed off certain strong resolutions by AFL and Am. Legion. Undoubtedly he (Brookhart) is working harder for the USSR than even their own people. He is, as you know, in my department (Agriculture) at the direct request of the flaming one. (F. D. Roosevelt.)

"The protecting shield of the great ones has been felt under very trying conditions.

"The Tigers (Russians) are going through various tricks but with respect to them, the man now in charge at the Old House (the man in charge was Cordell Hull and the old house was the State Department) is excellent. The Flaming One is soft-hearted toward the Tigers and I fear has made commitments of some sort. The battle against the vermin is fierce and the one refuge is the thought of the steadfast ones and that inmost conviction.

"I look at the locket from out of the past and wonder if I shall see it again in the far distant future. Apparently we are fighting always a new battle. Shall our hearts sing at the fighting? Do we never create that sweet land of beauty and justice? — Steadfast one." This screed was signed with a juvenile monogram of the initials "HAW."

Another letter, undated, said:

"Dear Prof. R.

"Long have I been aware of the occasional fragrance from that other world which is the real world. But now I must live in the outer world and at the same time make over my mind and body to serve as fit instruments for the lord of justice. The changes in awareness must come as a result of steady, earnest recollectedness. I shall strive to grow as rapidly as possible without undue violence. I am planning on being in NY April 14 and I do not yet just know what hour of the day L will have available for the visit with the 'heart trust'. Yes, the chalice is filling.

"These evenings before I go to bed, I read Fiery Stronghold. Also I am having some fortune in setting certain decentralizing forces in motion. Humbly as I am striving with hope to serve as an instrument to do my part. My highest regards to the Heart Trust, the guardians of the stone and chalice. H. A. W."

Another letter is dated March 12, 1933, in typewriter but with the initial signature "G" which Wallace sometimes used, signifying "Gallahad," his cultish name. It says:

"Dear Guru:

"I have been thinking of you holding the casket, the most precious casket. And I have thought of the new country going forth to meet the seven stars under the sign of the three stars. And I have thought of the admonition 'Await the stone.'

"We await the stone and welcome you again to this glorious land of destiny, clouded though it may be with strange, fumbling fears. Who shall hold up the compelling vision to those who wander in darkness? In answer to this question, we again welcome you. To drive out depression. To drive out fear. We think of the people of Northern Shambhalla and the hastening feet of the successor of Buddha and the lightning flashes and the breaking of the new day. And so I await your convenience, prepared to do what I am here to do.

"May peace, joy and fire attend you as always (G)."

A letter addressed "Dear Guru," undated, said: "A terrific attack is gathering from many different directions but I am well fortified by your directions. The matter I wrote about to you yesterday perhaps alarmed me unduly. Probably nothing will come of it but much depends on the desperation of the dark ones. Tell F (Miss Grant) I today warned the wavering one (another name Wallace applied to Roosevelt) of the hyena servant R in a sufficiently impressive way. (The 'hyena servant' was a man who had served under President Hoover in the White House.) Mac expressed fear that you and George (Roerich's son) being of feline race might be persona non grata to our friends on whose graces we are so dependent. Mac seemed to have a certain uneasiness about a sound relationship with the enemies of the Tigers. I have read and reread the indication. May the tireless one abound in renewed strength. May glory and joy and peace surround us in the midst of the most fiery strife.

(Initialled) W."

At his political convention in Philadelphia in 1948, where the Communists acclaimed him as their candidate on the "Progressive" ticket, Wallace publicly refused to answer whether or not he had written this nonsense. However, there is abundant proof that he did. He had tricked Roerich into a trip to Mongolia and then set the Internal Revenue after him on income tax charges to keep him on the other side of the world so that Roerich could not embarrass him.

A code accompanied this gibberish. In addition to the definitions already given here, the code called Mme. Roerich "mother"; the Japanese "rulers"; Roerich "father"; Roosevelt "M.O." and "Mediocre One"; and Cordell Hull, "Sour One."

For 25 years, Mrs. Blanche Elton of Dormont, Pa., has worked every Wednesday as a volunteer for the American Red Cross, making about 400 surgeons' masks every year.

'Hazelwood' Greets Guests

MRS. CHARLES R. WALGREEN, pictured above to the left, displays a few of the many hemerocallis (Daylily) enjoyed by the hundreds of visitors to her Rock River estate, "Hazelwood", Sunday With the charming hostess are Mr and Mrs George L Titus, Sullivan Ill, guests, and to the far right, Mrs. Mabel Fuller, one of the Illinois Garden club members who assisted Mrs Walgreen with hostess duties. Mrs. Fuller, of Riverside, is a frequent visitor to the Walgreen estate.

Mrs. Walgreen Opens Estate To Benefit Lincoln Gardens

Sunday's guests to "Hazelwood", the beautiful Rock River estate of Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Dixon, were thrilled by the beauty of the hundreds of daylilies now in full bloom. Upon entering the first gate of the spacious grounds, the beautiful flowers appeared from every direction to welcome the visitors.

Nearly 1,000 guests from far and near enjoyed the beauty of the estate and the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Walgreen and the hostesses, members of the Illinois Garden club. The open house benefits the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Garden, project of the Garden Club of Illinois, which Mrs. Walgreen helped to establish.

"Hazelwood s" collection of hemerocallis (day lily) is probably the largest of any private garden in the country. There are more than 200 named varieties and thousands of seedlings, many hybridized by Dr. E. J. Kraus, formerly head of the botany department, University of Chicago and now from the state of Oregon.

Adding to the enjoyment of yesterday's visitors were the talks by Harold C. Cook, Dixon, well known lecturer on flower arranging, and the three houses on the estate which were open. Guests wandered through the guest house, which houses the famous Walgreen gun collection; the log cabin, visited by Lincoln and Cliff house, the family residence.

This is the second time in one year Mrs Walgreen has opened her home for the Lincoln Garden benefit, the first being in late April when her spring flowers were at their loveliest.

Use Colors to Express Moods

Colors can add life to a room. Or they can make a room look drab Whatever appearance your room has will depend on the colores you choose for it

According to Miss Ellen Hansen, member of the home furnishings staff at the University of Illinois, the amount of natural sunlight that a room has may determine what colors you should use in it.

The reds, yellows and oranges seem warm and cheerful because we associate them with the warmth of sun and fire The blues, greens and some purples seem cool and restful because we associate them with cool green trees and blue of ice. Therefore a room that has a lot of warm, cheerful sunlight can use blue or green But a room with little sunlight needs a warm color to make it appear cheerful A warm yellow may give a dark room a bright, cheery mood

Moline Man Sentenced As Vagrant

A Moline man, August DeSmet, 44, arrested July 3 for burglary, today pleaded guilty to an amended charge of vagrancy in county court and was sentenced to six months in the Vandalia state prison farm.

County Judge Grover Gehant also ordered DeSmet to pay court costs.

DeSmet was arrested by Sheriff John Stouffer and was charged with burglary after he refused to plead guilty of vagrancy. DeSmet reportedly changed his mind during the weekend.

DeSmet was arrested in the J. H. Bittorf cabin on the Rock River near the Lee-Whiteside county line after neighbors surprised him and surrounded the cottage until Stouffer arrived.

Stouffer reportedly found the refrigerator door open, food on the table and DeSmet hiding under a pile of rubbish in the fireplace.

Vandalism at Highway Garage Is Investigated

Two Dixon youths, aged 13 and 15, today were placed on probation and ordered to make full restitution for the several hundred dollar's worth of damage they admittedly caused Sunday to state highway garage's paint shop in Dementown.

Dixon police released two other youths held for questioning this morning and reportedly are looking for a second group of youths for additional vandalism that occurred during the weekend on the state property.

The two youths admitted throwing four cans of black enamel paint and two cans of white paint on stacks of metal highway signs, the floor and on paint shop records.

The pair denied, however, that they spread the black paint on a large desk in the small paint shop. They also did not admit any knowledge of vandalism to a truck and a welding unit parked inside the garage, according to Chief of Police Earl Kelchner.

The youths were arrested about 9 a.m. today by Officers Glenn Camery and Robert McCoy. Both readily admitted their parts in the vandalism.

M. M. Memler, chief engineer at the state garage, reportedly told Kelchner that he would not prefer charges against the youths if full restitution was made.

Jess McIntyre, foreman of the paint shop, estimated the damage to the paint shop at $400. Later estimates were slightly lower, according to Kelchner.

The youths entered the building by slipping through a maze of wood construction braces south of the structure and climbing a ladder to the second floor paint shop.

A tarpaulin, stretched as a temporary wall between the building and the new construction, apparently offered no opposition to the youths.

The pair admitted making two trips into the paint shop Sunday afternoon. The vandalism to the truck and welding unit apparently was caused late Sunday.

Kelchner reported that the truck window had been smashed and sand had been poured in the gas tank of the welding unit.

Other officers also elected unanimously by the approximately 2,500 delegates to the grand lodge include:

Robert L. De Horty, Elwood, Ind., esteemed leading knight.

Ike Discusses Foreign Aid With Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today discussed the foreign aid situation with Sens. Clements (D-Ky) and Dirksen (R-Ill) in connection with their recent joint tour of the Far East and Dirksen's later trip to Europe.

The foreign aid appropriation bill is up in the House today.

The President held a lengthy unscheduled conference with the two legislators. Clements, acting House Democratic leader, told newsmen afterward that the discussion dealt with foreign aid and the legislative picture generally. He declined to provide any detail.

Clements and Dirksen toured Far Eastern countries together in June. Clements returned to the United States about two weeks ago. Dirksen went on to Europe and came back to this country last week.

Nationalists Claim Reds Ready Fleet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— An official Nationalist Chinese news agency said today the Chinese Communists were concentrating a naval fleet off Chushan Islands, southeast of Shanghai.

Taiao agency charged also:

Soviet Russia turned over 30 more MIG15s to North Korea in June, increasing the number there to 350.

The Chinese Reds were intensifying preparations for an invasion of Thailand through "free Thai" forces being built up in the southwest China Province of Yunnan.

Taiao is operated by the Nationalist Interior Ministry and claims underground contacts.

The agency said 12 light destroyers, a 7,000-ton supply ship, about 50 gunboats, some landing ships and other assorted Communist craft had assembled at the Chushans 90 miles south of Shanghai.

Taiao also said tanks, guns and other weapons to equip two divisions had been shipped to North Korea in June from Vladivostok.

In Montgomery County, at least 75 per cent of the county's crops were affected somewhat by rains which swelled Slate Creek. It was reported higher than at any time since 1935.

Iced Tea Drinking On Upswing

NEW YORK (AP)—The American habit of reaching for a glass of iced tea when the weather's hot is helping the tea industry achieve a long-sought goal: A more important place at the American table.

The industry has been fighting for years for a larger share of the market in this nation of coffee-drinkers. The figures indicate the battle is being won. Imports of tea last year came to nearly 116 million pounds—a gain of some 30 million pounds since the end of World War II.

A good part of this increase may be attributed to iced tea.

Sales Soar

Restaurant sales of iced tea have soared 250 per cent in the last five years, and the nation's total iced tea consumption has risen to some 10 billion glasses a year.

In the South, one large tea firm reports, more iced tea is drunk than hot tea.

But consumption of hot tea is on the upswing, too. The Tea Council of the U.S.A. Inc., set up by India, Ceylon and Indonesia and the tea trade in the U.S., says one important reason is price. Tea is one of the most economical beverages on the market.

However, the council contends that more than price is involved. It points out that tea consumption was on the way up well before coffee prices started to rise.

Due to War

Part of the growing U. S. tea habit, it's suggested, may be due to World War II and the Korean War. Tea is the national drink of England, Japan and Korea, all places of familiary memory to millions of ex-servicemen. So it is likely that many servicemen became tea drinkers overseas.

The U.S. is second only to England in tea imports, but Americans are far behind the British in tea drinking. The Tea Council estimates that U.S. adults consume tea at the rate of nearly a pound a year. The average Britisher drinks more than 10 pounds a year.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Every summer brings an annual urge to many of us to get away from familiar settings and to relax at some distant place. And when the time comes for those fortunate enough to get away for fun and relaxation, the natural tendency is to want to arrive at the chosen place as soon as possible and to stay as long as one can. Unfortunately, many vacation-goers take to "flying low" on the highways in their enthusiasm.

Speed is a serious factor in traffic fatalities. Speed, alone, is not always the primary factor, but added to other highway difficulties it may turn a minor traffic accident into death. The real danger facing a motorist traveling at a high speed is not the increased frequency of accidents, but rather the increased severity of an accident.

Whenever speed limit signs are posted, you should not, of course, drive in excess of the limit. However, a motorist should not always travel as fast as the law allows. For instance, when driving in a residential district where the speed limit is 25 miles per hour, many times it will be safer to drive at a slower pace. Because a certain speed is permitted, conditions—such as icy or wet pavement—will warrant that motorists keep their vehicles traveling at slower speeds.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Russia Remains a Puzzle To Ike and All Americans

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— Unless this country has a spy in the Kremlin, President Eisenhower will probably go into the meeting a puzzled man when he sits down in Geneva a week from today with the British, French and Russians.

He'll be well coached on the details of any proposals he makes to the Russians, or any they are likely to throw at him. But what is apt to mystify him, unless he has extraordinary inside information, is why Russia has sounded reasonable lately.

Every time something happens in the Kremlin—a death, a shift in power, a purge—there's a spurt of wishful thinking in this country that now there'll be an explosion and an end to communism.

Another Spurt

There's been another spurt in recent months because the Russians talked of wanting to end the cold war. Various wishful reasons have been offered: that they needed peace, due to a critical food shortage, and so on.

For people supposedly that wobbly, the Russians have made amazing scientific and industrial progress since the war. In the past year some Russian leaders have made statements critical of their own agriculture and industry.

True, that might be a frank acknowledgement of serious internal trouble. But the very frankness can also be interpreted as showing marked strength and confidence on the part of the Kremlin leaders. If they were in bad trouble, would they want to acknowledge it to their own people and outsiders? Hardly, if they were in real danger.

Last week Eisenhower said he knew of no one in the government who was suggesting the Russians were seeking peace because of weakness. By coincidence, the next day a congressional committee released the record of a hearing, held a month ago, at which Secretary of State Dulles said the Russian economy was collapsing.

Soft-Pedalled Words

The White House lost no time soft pedaling that the next day. "Collapse" is a colorful word which, when used about Russia, could not help but please members of Congress. Dulles is sometimes given to colorful words.

But many of the men around Dulles are reported to feel that while Russia may have some soft spots, they are not necessarily of the kind that would force her to seek peace.

It would be just as reasonable, and perhaps more realistic, to assume the Russians are talking peace—provided they're at all sincere—from quite other motives!

A realization that their tough tactics have solidified the Western allies while soft talk may split them, since all are eager for peace; a realization that in a hydrogen war, which gets closer every time the Russians get tougher, no one can win; and perhaps hope that a shift in tactics will keep Germany disarmed, a result they failed to attain by swagger and bluster.

The real question, whose answer won't be known until after the Geneva conference, at least, is this: are the Russians sincere at all in wanting peace?

Purrs, All Right!

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — When Jack O. Jones of Greensboro arrived here Sunday after an 180-mile drive from Conway, S. C., he remarked that his motor purred like a kitten.

Then he looked under the hood of his car and discovered a furry kitten. Jones said it must have hopped aboard at Conway where a family of cats slept under the car.

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)— A thunderstorm sent a flash flood gushing through the side door of the Liberty Theater Sunday, forcing hundreds of patrons to flee. The feature attraction: "Interrupted Melody."

PINCH HITTER — Sen. Earle C. Clements, of Kentucky, has taken over temporary leadership of the Senate, replacing Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, who suffered a heart attack. Clements was Democratic whip and assistant majority leader.

Chief Complainant

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An angry man telephoned Policemen L. G. Fryer and A. S. Douglas Sunday night that someone had punctured all tires on his car.

When they arrived at the house, they found the complainant was Miami Police Chief Walter Headley.

The number of telephones in the United States rose from 21 million in 1940 to 53 million today.

A-Bomb Could Spell End to Some Cities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson says it's "entirely possible" that some American cities, once subjected to nuclear attack, could never be entered again.

In testimony released Sunday by a House Appropriations subcommittee, Peterson cited New Orleans as one city that might literally disappear if attacked from the air.

Because New Orleans is "built on only two or three feet of dirt resting on water," Peterson said the crater caused by a nuclear bomb might transform the city into a lake.

Lost Pilot Lands On Turnpike

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Air Force Maj. Leo Carboneau, lost and out of fuel in his F86D jet plane, badly needed a place to land Sunday and picked the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Luckily he landed at a time when there was a lull in the usual heavy Sunday traffic. The major got his ship down an east bound lane near the Sideling Hill Tunnell in Fulton County about 30 miles east of here.

He was unhurt and the plane was only slightly damaged.

Mosquitoes were very little known, scientifically, until the end of the last century when their role in spreading human disease began to be appreciated.

Hold Mental Patient for Slaying Tot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An attorney said he would try today to free a former mental patient who is being held for investigation in the kidnap-slaying of seven-year-old Judith Ann Roberts.

Charles E. Fry said he would seek Robert Brown's release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Brown, who told police his real name was Raphael Machalica, was picked up Friday by police at Judith Ann's grave and held without charge. He was given a mental test Saturday and was being held for further such tests.

Fry, hired by a group of Brown's acquaintances, said he would charge in his petition for habeas corpus that Brown was being held illegally and without counsel. Fry said he was refused permission to visit the man Sunday.

Officers plan to take Brown to the scene where the child's body was found July 7, 1954, and observe his reactions. She was kidnaped from her grandparents' home here.

He was found at the graveside Friday. Police found newspaper clippings on the murder in his neatly kept room. They also found pieces of rope and apparently meaningless scribblings.

Brown was a patient for many years at the Lincoln State Hospital at Lincoln, Ill. He escaped early last year and was never returned.

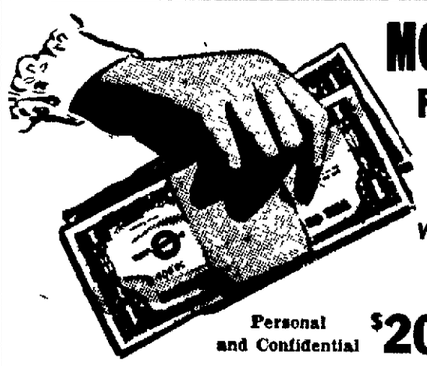

Elizabeth Man Dies in Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — An Elizabeth, Ill., salesman was killed in a weekend traffic mishap on Lincoln Highway near Chicago.

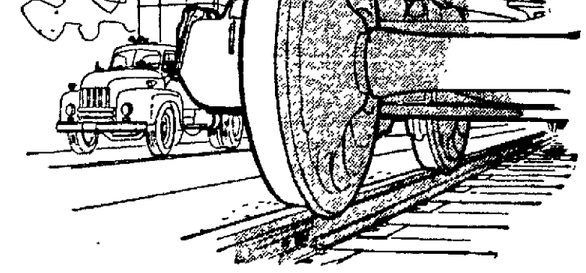

James Magee, 29, was killed when his car swerved into a combination truck and trailer Saturday. Truck driver Dean Stull, 28, of Clinton, Iowa, told police he saw the oncoming car, but was unable to avoid it.

Are truckers AFRAID of rail competition?
They must be, or they wouldn't be in such a dither about the President's Cabinet report. It says truckers and railroads should compete on an equal basis. That's all!
Yet truckers appear to fear that the Illinois Central and other railroads—if freed of certain old-fashioned regulations—can do such a wonderful job that they will run trucks off the highways.
Such talk is intended to arouse your pity. Don't believe it. Trucks form a basic part of America's transportation. They do many important jobs better than anyone else.
What really bothers the truckers is the idea that competition may force them to give up part of the rich living they enjoy on publicly-owned highways.
You will get more for your dollar when all transportation pays its own way—as the Illinois Central does. That makes sound sense. Let others earn the right to serve you, just as the Illinois Central has earned it for more than a century.

Jim Lamb Repeats as Highway Champ

LINCOLN HIGHWAY ROUNDUP: Many bouquets were passed around to a richly deserving Ken Wahler, president of the tournament, and his committee. Ken accepted the job last year and spent many months planning out the event right down to the last detail. His associates carried it out without a hitch. As a result, we have never seen (and we heard many veterans report that they had never seen) a better conducted tournament than that held at Plum Hollow.

Ken Detweiler, upon accepting the first flight trophy, probably summed up the feelings of all concerned when he said, "I'm sure I'm not going to hurt anyone's feelings when I say that in all the years I have been associated with this tournament, this has been the best conducted and best handled tournament ever held."

* * * *

KEN DETWEILER gave a fine display of sportsmanship on the 54th hole which, as it turned out, cost him the tournament. Ken had taken a four on the hole when a weak chip shot left him with a long putt for a winning three. He missed and took a four. Jim Lamb lay two with an easy putt for a three. As Lamb addressed his ball, it moved. Technically, Detweiler could have called Lamb on the shot and won the tournament. But Ken refused and demanded that the official scorekeeper not count that as a stroke. Lamb then sank the putt for a three to tie the match.

* * * *

CROWD FAVORITE AT THE TOURNAMENT was young Chuck Kittleson, Jr., a tall good looking lad who is just 19. A freshman at Northern Illinois State Teachers college, Chuch started the recent golf season as the college's number three man and wound up the number one golfer for the team.

Chuck's biggest problem yesterday was his putter. Had he been able to putt with any authority, he would easily have won the individual title. He three putted several greens when he needed the strokes. The three putts he took on the 53rd hole cost him a share of the playoff prize.

* * * *

Ken Detweiler reported that he and Dick Durkes of Dixon and Jon Neuswanger of Oregon have entered the Western Amateur Open tournament to be held at the Rockford country club next week.

A PAIR OF DIXON'S PROMISING YOUNG GOLFERS, John Peterson and Utley Noble, Jr., will compete in the Jaycee State golf tournament at Locport, Tuesday. They arrived at Lockport today for a practice round and will compete in a 36-hole, one day medal tournament Tuesday. The winner goes to Columbus, Ga., for the National tournament in August.

Bob Shaeffer of Rock River had the only eagle of the Lincoln Highway tournament. Shaeffer scored a deuce on the 294 yard second hole in the first round Sunday.

WHILE PASSING OUT PRAISE, the women's association at Plum Hollow did an admirable job of helping the tournament run smoothly over the weekend. Their pleasantness went a long way toward making visitors feel welcome.

Rock Falls Wins Legion Title

Chisox Split With Tribe; Cubs Beaten

By the Associated Press

No one won the American league pennant in the last 10 days, but it could be that the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers lost it in that span.

With the All-Star game break at hand, the New York Yankees hold a five-game lead over the Cleveland Indians, who are a length in front of the White Sox. Ten days ago, the Yanks were 5½ games to the good with the White Sox second —11½ up on the Indians.

Detroit, fourth when the 10 days started and 9½ games behind, now is fifth, victim of the onrushing Boston Red Sox. The Bosox, with the incomparable Ted Williams, had a 9-1 record for the 10 days, taking over fourth place seven games behind the Yanks and 5½ ahead of the Tigers.

Sox, Tigers Fade

The Yanks played .500 ball, meeting mostly second division clubs, for the 10 days. Cleveland won eight of 12. The White Sox and Tigers, who faded at the same time last season, lost six of 11 and nine of 12, respectively.

New York played at the same 50-50 pace Sunday, beating Washington 8-3 after losing the first game of the twinbill 6-4. Cleveland defeated Chicago 5-2, but lost the nightcap 4-2. Boston beat Baltimore 10-7 before rain washed out the second game. Detroit whipped Kansas City 10-1 after the A's had won 9-5.

In the National, Brooklyn's lead was trimmed to 11½ games in a 3-2 defeat by New York as second place Milwaukee split with Cincinnati. The Braves won 7-1, then lost 7-6. St. Louis whipped Chicago 7-2 and Philadelphia trimmed Pittsburgh 4-1 before losing 3-1.

Trucks Saves Sox

The Yankees were beaten in a six-run fifth by the Nats that chased Whitey Ford. In the nightcap, Mickey Mantle—whose two homers had gone to waste in the first game—whacked his 21st to pace New York.

Virgil Trucks saved the day for Chicago, giving Cleveland four hits in eight innings of the second game. Bob Nieman's two-run homer off loser Herb Score wiped out an early 1-0 Indian lead on Larry Doby's solo shot. Bobby Avila's bases-loaded triple wrapped up the opener as Ray Narleski and Don Mossi protected Art Houtteman's sixth victory.

Milwaukee won its sixth straight in the opener before Cincinnati ended its own six game losing streak. Ted Kluszewski belted his 29th homer in the first game, but two unearned runs in the sixth won for the Braves. It was Gene Conley's 11th victory. The Redlegs enjoyed four unearned runs and Wally Post's two-run homer to take the nightcap from Warren Spahn.

Luis Arroyo made his third try for No. 10 and won for the Cards. Switch-hitting Red Schoendienst slapped two doubles righthanded and a lefthanded triple in support of the rookie southpaw, Stan Musial hit his 19th homer for the Cards while Hank Sauer of the Cubs hit his eighth.

A Kiss for the Winner

A HAPPY JIM LAMB GETS THE VICTOR'S KISS from his wife after Lamb had defeated Ken Detweiler of Dixon on the second hole of a sudden death playoff. The victory was Lamb's second straight and the fourth of his career, putting him into the charmed circle which is shared by Detweiler, Mickey Beal of Clinton and Arnie Huhta of DeKalb.

National Loop Sluggers 13-10 All-Star Favorites

MILWAUKEE (AP)—For the first time in years, the American and National league squads come up for the annual All-Star game tomorrow with "rested" pitchers and a minimum of injuries.

Whereas in other years, all-star pitchers were called upon within 48 hours after working a nine-inning game on Sunday, only five of the 16 saw action Sunday. A year ago, five of the seven National League pitchers and four of the eight American Leaguers had worked on Sunday.

Outside of Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, who was scratched several days ago because of a damaged knee, neither side reported any injuries. Last year, Al Rosen, Yogi Berra, Allie Reynolds, Mike Garcia, Campanella and Harvey Haddix all were crippled although some were able to play. In fact, Rosen, despite an injured index finger, hammered two home runs and drove in five runs to lead the Americans to an 11-9 victory in Cleveland.

Choice of Pitchers

Managers Al Lopez and Leo Durocher, who will direct the American and National League squads, respectively, have a wide choice of pitchers. Most likely starter for the Americans is Early Wynn (11-1). Cleveland's strong-armed righthander, who probably will be opposed by either Don Newcombe (11-1) of Brooklyn or Robin Roberts (13-7) of Philadelphia.

A sellout crowd of nearly 45,000 was virtually assured as Milwaukee's baseball-batty populace awaited the 22nd annual midsummer spectacle with tremendous interest. To the fans in this frenzied metropolis, the game is something more than a mere exhibition.

The entire week of the game has been designated as an "all-star festival."

Will Televise

The original starting time was set back a half hour to 3 p.m. CDT, to let baseball officials attend the funeral services for Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune sports editor, who founded the game back in 1933. The game, to be carried on network radio (Mutual) and television (NBC) is expected to gross $175,000 at the gate and $110,000 from radio-TV rights. The money goes into the major league central fund which supports the players' pension fund.

The Nationals have been installed as 13 to 10 favorites to win their fifth in the last six clashes.

MILWAUKEE (AP)— The National League seeking to close the 13-8 gap built by the American League in baseball's All-Star game will have a decided edge in power over its rival circuit Tuesday.

Led by Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Willie Mays of the New York Giants, who have walloped 84 homers among them, the National Leagues have hit 288 home runs in regular season competition compared to 183 for the American Leaguers.

Five NL players — Kluszewski, with 29, Snider, with 28, Mays, with 27, Ernie Banks of Chicago, with 23 and Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, with 22 — have connected for more homers than Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, who lead the American League with 21.

None to Compare

The American League also has no one to compare with Snider's 89 runs batted in or Don Newcombe's brilliant 14-1 won - lost record.

The American League has some strong points, too. As a unit it's batting .287 one point higher than the National. Al Kaline's leading average of .371 cannot be matched by a National Leaguer. Ted Williams' .394 mark for 29 games also is impressive.

The junior circuit also has more .300 hitters on its squad than the National — eight to six. In addition to Kaline and Williams, the American Leaguers over .300 are Nellie Fox of Chicago, at .326, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit, at .320, Mantle at .318, Vic Power of Kansas City, at .305 and Al Smith and Larry Doby of Cleveland, at .315.

AL Pitchers Tops

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee has the highest batting average among the National League players, .322. Snider is at .319, Kluszewski at .317, Don Mueller of the Giants and Cincinnati's Smoky Burgess at .315, and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee at .307.

The American League's nine pitchers have an aggregate of 80 victories and 49 defeats. Early Wynn of Cleveland, Bob Turley of New York and Frank Sullivan of Boston have triumphed 11 times and Dick Donovan of Chicago and Whitey Ford of the Yankees have won 10.

Besides Newcombe, other NL All-Stars with impressive records are Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, 13-7; Luis Arroyo of St. Louis, 10-3, and Gene Conley of Milwaukee with 11-5. The Nationals' total of seven pitchers have a combined record of 71-41.

Forreston Victim in 9-7 Contest

Janssen Stars on Double, Homer to Drive in 5 Runs

Rock Falls won its second straight District 13 Junior American Legion baseball title Sunday with a 9-7 victory over Forreston at Reynolds Field.

It was the second straight year that the Rock Falls nine has knocked off Forreston for the crown. Last year it was a 21-6 victory that catapulted Rock Falls into the Second Division playoff.

By winning, Rock Falls won the right to compete at Joliet next week against district winners from the 10th, 11th and 12th districts.

Forreston went the distance with Clyde Hill who gave up only seven hits but was hurt by four errors. Rock Falls made six of its seven hits work, getting the blows where they counted for scores.

Two Run Homer

Rock Falls opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the second inning on a single, a walk and a two run double by Huffman. Forreston came back in the top of the third with two runs on a pair of walks and a two run double by Hill.

Rock Falls then went ahead to stay when Janssen hit a bases-loaded double after a single and two walks had filled the sacks. A walk, two fielder's choices and a single brought Forreston within a run of Rock Falls in the fifth but Rock Falls retaliated with four runs in the fifth on a walk, an error, a single and a two run homer over the left field fence by Janssen. Forreston put together two hits for three runs in the eighth but Huffman came in to stamp out the fire for Rock Falls.

Larson started for Rock Falls and gave up five hits in 7⅔ innings. Huffman finished up by hurling hitless ball the last 1⅓ innings.

CLINTON—(Special)—Beier's Dixon's men's tennis team annexed its third straight Northern Illinois Tennis association match here Sunday with an 8-1 decision over Clinton.

The one point loss was the first setback a Dixon player has suffered in three outings this year as Dixon previously had won two matches on shutouts.

While Dixon was upping its league record to 3-0, Clinton was dropped to a 1-2 record having previously lost to Ottawa.

In a women's match in Dixon, the Dixon Elks girls dropped an 8-1 decision to Ottawa in the first match for the local girls. Jan Nelson scored the only victory for Dixon.

Beats Detweiler In Sudden Death

DeKalb Takes Team Title; Only Club to Beat Bogie

By NORM JOLLOW
(Telegraph Sports Editor)

Jim Lamb, representing Mt. Morris this year, successfully defended his Lincoln Highway individual championship and moved into the charmed four-time winner circle after the most dramatic finish in years was staged at Plum Hollow Golf club Sunday.

Lamb was forced into a sudden death playoff by veteran Ken Detweiler of Dixon country club who was seeking to become the first five time winner in tournament history.

Detweiler lost his opportunity on the 56th hole when he fell well sort of the green on his approach shot from a downhill lie on Plum Hollow's second hole. Lamb, down in the valley to the right of the green, planted his second shot about a foot from the pin for an easy three. Detweiler was long on his approach for his third shot and lost the match.

The team title, an incidental after the intensely dramatic individual battle, went to DeKalb, the only club able to better bogie on the tough 38 bogie Plum Hollow layout. DeKalb won with a plus 43 while Clinton was second, even with bogie, and Dixon was third, eight down. Mt. Morris was fourth, followed by Oregon, Emerald Hill of Sterling, Plum Hollow, Princeton, Rock River, Rochelle and Morrison.

Fitting Climax

The playoff was a fitting climax to one of the tensest battles in the tournament's history during yesterday's regulation 27 holes of play.

At the start of the morning round, Lamb, Detweiler and Chuck Kittleson Jr., 19-year old lad from Kishwaukee country club of DeKalb, were tied with 27 hole totals of 105. One stroke back was DeKalb's Jim Besenfelder.

At the end of 36 holes, Besenfelder, with a 34, moved into a one stroke lead over Lamb. Detweiler was two strokes off the pace and Kittleson was three strokes down.

Besenfelder spoiled his chances by taking a five on the par three first hole of the second nine. Lamb moved in front with a three while Detweiler pulled into a tie with Besenfelder with a three. Kittleson fell three strokes back with a four.

Lamb in Lead

Detweiler moved into a tie with Lamb by taking a three on the third hole while Kittleson fell four strokes back with a five.

A bad fifth hole for Detweiler sent Lamb ahead by a stroke. And a three for Kittleson chopped his deficit to three strokes.

Detweiler got back the stroke when Lamb took a five on the sixth hole while Kittleson moved to within two strokes of the top. On the ninth hole, with Lamb and DetWeiler still tied, Kittleson regained a stroke he had lost on eight by taking a three on the tough ninth.

The threesome played even for three holes of the final nine. Kittleson then made a beautiful recovery on the fourth from the rough behind overhanging tree branches to drop his second shot three feet from the pin. He holed out for a three and now trailed the leaders by a stroke.

Kittleson in Tie

Kittleson picked up another stroke and moved into a tie with Lamb on the fifth with his second straight birdie. Detweiler, again in trouble on the fifth, fell a stroke off with a five.

Kittleson, having rough trouble, fell two strokes behind Lamb and one down to Detweiler when he took a six on the seventh hole.

Kittleson thus became the first to falter in a torrid stretch drive. Lamb was next when he looked up on his second shot on the eighth hole and wound up in trouble. He finished with a six to fall a stroke behind DetWeiler who scrambled to a four. Kittleson, on the green in two, ran into putter trouble, his biggest problem, as he three putted for a five to stay two strokes down.

Pressure Mounts

It looked like Detweiler had the title in the bag when his tee shot on nine was just off the green to the right on the pin side. Lamb and Kittleson both hit the green but had 30 foot putts to worry about.

Detweiler, pressure and tension mounting by the second hit his chip shot weakly and barely got on the green leaving himself a 12 foot putt which he missed. Lamb then got down in three to tie the match.

Both Lamb and Detweiler had tough lies after their tee shots on the first playoff hole. But Lamb seemed to have sewed the match up when he chipped to within three feet of the pin while Detweiler was 12 feet away. Detweiler missed his putt but a surprised gallery saw Lamb blow his big chance.

That set it up for the climatic 56th hole.

It Missed

KEN DETWEILER, veteran Dixon Country club golfer, wears the beginning of a pained expression as he watches the putt that would have given him his fifth straight Lincoln Highway championship roll past the cup. It happened on the 54th green where Ken took a four while Jim Lamb had a three to tie to force the match into sudden death where Lamb won on the 56th hole.

UP SHE GOES—STRAIGHT UP, THAT IS—This model of a revolutionary plane model that can take off and land vertically worked successfully in tests at the government's Ames Aeronautical Research Laboratory, Moffett Field, Calif. For vertical take-off, wings are tilted in a vertical position with the propellers pointing skyward. Once airborne, wings are swung into a normal horizontal position.

DOUBLING PRODUCTION—This 2-year-old White Rock hen may be a little surprised herself as she contemplates her odd egg production. In the past two months, she has laid nine large eggs like the one at right. Each contained a yolk and a regular-sized egg inside. Large egg is 9 inches around the long way and weighs 9 ounces. Normal egg, from one of the other giants, measures 6½ inches and weighs 2½ ounces. Hen is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lubke of Michigan City, Ind.

JUNGLE JUGGERNAUT—The automotive monster pictured above is a "Tree Crasher," being tested at Longview, Tex., where it was built by R. G. LeTourneau, Inc. The jungle destroyer travels on the largest rubber tires in the world—10 feet in diameter and 4 feet thick. The 120,000-pound machine is so light on its feet it can roll over a match without breaking it. Yet, in its work of uprooting heavy trees and underbrush, it packs three times the wallop of an M-24 tank. Each of the six wheels has its own electric motor.

HAPPY TEARS—Patricia Ann O'Kane, 19, of Valley Stream, N.Y., wipes tears of joy from her eyes after winning the title of "Miss New York, 1955" at Palisades Park, N.J. The blonde beauty is 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighs 138 pounds and measures 36, 24, 36.

DOUBLING IN BRASS—Don Butterfield, left, and Harry London team up on the two-headed tuba featured by the Cities Service Band of America during concerts in New York. It is the only instrument of its kind in use today. Both musicians blow at the same time, but only one of them fingers the single set of valves. Puffing and valve-pushing have to be synchronized perfectly to get the desired result.

STRANGE FRUIT—Two orange trees have been growing some 3000 feet underground in the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine at Kellogg, Idaho. The larger tree is four feet high. Miner Herman Meier, shown examining it, discovered the trees growing from the rocky floor. As soon as they were strong enough they were transplanted to boxes of earth. Meier carries plant food down to them every day.

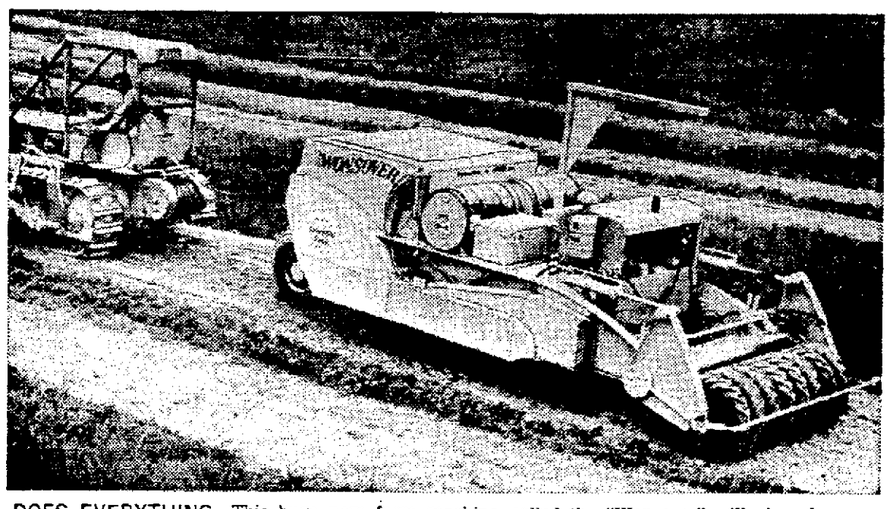

CEYLON EXPORT—Comely Maureen Hingert, a Ceylonese girl of Dutch descent, poses prettily after being named "Miss Ceylon of 1955" in a contest in Colombo. She's headed for Long Beach, Calif., to compete for the title of "Miss Universe."

HA-HA FOR ZSA ZSA—When screen actress Zsa Zsa Gabor recently threw a dinner in Hollywood for the men she considers the film capital's 10 most available bachelors, millionaire businessman Hal Hayes, right, sat next to her "cutting in" on architect John Lindsay who was dating her for the evening. Lindsay, however, came prepared for the emergency, wielding a nasty-looking toy six-shooter which he used to warn others that for that night, at least, Miss Double-Z was HIS date.

STACK O' WHEAT—Because of a shortage of freight cars and storage facilities, the Missouri Farmers Association elevator at Albany, Mo., is storing wheat in the street. Farmers thus continue their uninterrupted harvest until cars are available.

DOES EVERYTHING—This huge new farm machine, called the "Wonsover" will plow, harrow, grade, fumigate the soil, furrow, seed, pack and pump weed-killing chemicals all in one operation, according to its inventor, Harold Cohen. It is claimed the machine, demonstrated at Kennebunkport, Me., can do nine days' farm work in one day.

ICE WORK IF YOU CAN GET IT—Herman J. Wiedel, manager of a Chicago ice company, has an ideal hobby for these hot days. He makes ice sculptures in his 28-degree plant studio. Here he works on the figure of a swan, with an ice statue of a dog in the background.

THIS WILL NEVER GET TOO POPULAR—When a gasoline station attendant goes formal, it's time to take pictures. So here's Julius Edwards, dressed in top hat, white tie and tails as he serves a customer in Elyria, Ohio. For two days he celebrated the sale of four million gallons of gasoline in six and a half years, giving to lucky customers balloons, lollipops and a total of 500 gallons of gas.

TOURIST — Seldom-photographed Ho Chi-Minh, president of Communist Vietminh, grins at kindergarten children in Peiping where he was visiting Red China's Mao Tse-tung. After the banquet-studded visit, Ho departed for Moscow.

LOVE AND LOCKSMITHS—The smack of a kiss, then the clang of a jail cell door marked the "honeymoon" of Carmen Crossley, of Beaver, Okla., and his bride, the former Fern Anton, of Dodge City, Kans. They were married in the Meade, Kans., county jail where she was serving a 30-day sentence for drunken driving. Sheriff Arlie Johnston, left, watches the goodby kiss before locking her up to serve the last 15 days of her sentence.

KOREA'S CUTEST—Korea has recovered from the war enough to produce a comely candidate for the forthcoming Miss Universe contest in California. She's Kim Lee Jaung, 21, crowned "Miss Korea 1955" after winning from 101 other candidates in Seoul.

LUCKY YOUNGSTERS—Envy of kids for miles around are the two children of John Micklitsch, a Bluffton, Ind., hairdresser. He built them the snazzy sports car seen above. Its basis is the complete front end of a Model T, cut down to 30-inch width. The car is powered by a one and one-half h.p. motor of the type used in lawn mowers. It gives the car a top speed of 20 m.p.h., but this is governed down to six m.p.h. for the kids. They have put in about 300 miles, driving around the family's circular driveway.

UP FROM THE DEEP—This sketch, made for Mechanix Illustrated, shows a jet plane zooming skyward after being launched from an atomic-powered submarine. According to the magazine, A-bomb-carrying jets could be carried under water by the subs in special hangars below deck. After a mission, planes would land in the water on skis and be retrieved by the sub.

Turncoats 'Aren't Very Smart,' Reporter Finds

Takes Trio on Round of Bars; Tells of Results

By DAVID J. ROADS

HONG KONG (AP)—I took the three American turncoats out for $40 worth of drinks last night in a round of dance halls.

I agree with one of them, 22-year-old Lewis W. Griggs, that they "aren't very smart." But what else they are I couldn't say.

I spent their first evening of freedom with Griggs, William A. Cowart and Otho G. Bell in the line of duty, hoping they would reveal more than they had in evasive answers during the news conference following their arrival in Hong Kong Sunday.

Helped along by mambo music, double scotches, beer, Manhattans and plenty of American cigarettes, they appeared to talk freely. But they committed themselves on little.

Hell In China

All three kept repeating that things were hell in Red China.

Cowart, 23, of Dalton, Ga., was anxious to line up some "quick cash" and also talked vaguely about contacts with an anti-Communist underground in China.

Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss., kept repeating that he couldn't wait to "see that beautiful little daughter of mine." The child, Paula, now 4, was born after he was sent to Korea. Her mother is working at a military base near Olympia, Wash.

Griggs, of Jacksonville, Tex., reckoned they had "outsmarted the Reds in getting out."

Griggs sat silently at first, sipping Coca-Colas and then switching to beer. Suddenly he turned to me and said:

"You know we aren't very smart. But I feel positive we outsmarted the Reds in getting out. I'm convinced our case was dealt with by no less than Mao Tze-tung himself.

"They never knew exactly how to handle us after we started acting up," he continued. "We aren't too smart, but we forced the top boys to handle our case. Boy, that makes me feel we accomplished something."

All three asked about the trials of Edward S. Dickenson and Claude Batchelor, two other Korean POW's who changed their minds earlier about staying with the Communists and were turned back to the U.N. Command in Korea. They said they had heard the two men were free, awaiting another trial. Both actually are in prison after being convicted of collaborating with the enemy, Batchelor on a 20-year sentence and Dickenson for a 10-year term.

As he had been at the news conference, Cowart was the leader of the group. Bell and Griggs frequently looked to him for guidance. Finally Cowart brought the conversation around to money.

"Look, we have to pick up some quick cash before we land in the States," he said. "Have you any suggestions?"

After a brief silence, he began asking for offers:

"I have plenty to tell and will tell if I'm paid. What's it worth for our stories — individually or all three?"

Tells of "Contacts"

When no offer was forthcoming, Cowart brought out his cloak and dagger story. He maintained he had underground contacts in Red China among "people who worked against the government" — White Russians, Japanese, overseas Chinese who had returned to the mainland and other dissatisfied persons, he said.

As the hours rolled on and the drinks went down, the talk boiled down to usual barroom chatter — sports, movie stars and sex. Finally everybody was yawning and I picked up the check.

Woman Accused Of Poisoning Her Husband

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—A woman whose husband died of poisoning faced a charge of first degree murder today. Her sister is serving a life sentence after being convicted of poisoning her own husband.

The complaint was lodged against Mrs. Raymond Ashdown, 35. Her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Lacey Ashdown, was convicted of murder in 1949 after her husband, Vivian, died of poisoning. Vivian was Raymond's brother and the Mrs. Ashdowns are sisters.

Cool Air Gives East Heat Relief

By The Associated Press

Cool air which gave much of the northern United States its first relief from 90 degree temperatures in more than a week Sunday had reached the Atlantic Coast today.

Showers cooled off the Southeast somewhat but early morning temperatures were in the 70s or higher.

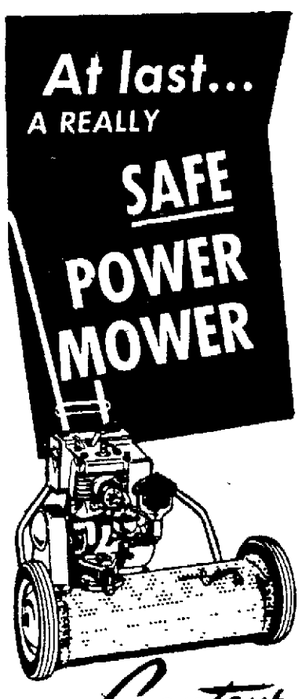

By way of contrast, it was 39 at Grand Marais, Mich.; 45 at Pellston and Marquette, Mich., and 49 at Mullen Pass, Idaho.

But below the band of cool air, readings at the start of the day provided no guarantee against repetition of such maximums Sunday as 99 at Denver and Kansas City, 97 ta St. Louis, 95 at Salt Lake City, 94 at Oklahoma City, 92 at Indianapolis, and 91 at Cincinnati and Omaha.

Showers and thunderstorms in the Southeast, the Rocky Mountains and the Northern Plains nowhere measured up to the 6.23 inches at Sioux City, Iowa, received in four hours Saturday night.

Today's early morning precipitation at Alma, Ga., measured 1.20 inches, but other falls in the Southeast measured less than an inch.
